EXCELLENCE IN E-PUBLISHING

Welcome to Cambridge University Press' exciting, innovative eBook platform, Cambridge Books Online.

Cambridge University Press is one of the largest and most prestigious academic publishers in the world.

We are widely respected as a world leader in publishing for subjects as diverse as astronomy, Shakespeare studies, economics, mathematics and politics. In the sciences, the Press has published authors from William Harvey and Isaac Newton, through Rutherford, Einstein and Schrödinger, to Stephen Hawking, Roger Penrose and Nicholas Stern, alongside authoritative organizations such as the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change. The Press publishes in such pioneering areas as bioinformatics, string theory, astrophysics and planetary science. In medicine, an already strong list in clinical reference publishing has expanded to include a new branch of exam-led and syllabus-led titles. In the humanities and social sciences, the Press publishes Amartya Sen, Richard Rorty, Quentin Skinner, Wole Soyinka, Bjørn Lomborg, Noam Chomsky, Robert Fogel, and Daniel Kahneman, together with agencies such as the World Trade Organization, Transparency International and the International Committee of the Red Cross.

Cambridge Books Online builds not only on our outstanding print programme but also on our extensive experience of producing high quality, dynamic and innovative online resources such as Cambridge Histories Online and Cambridge Collections Online. It will offer all levels of user a new dimension of access and usability to our extensive scholarly content, supporting and enhancing research.
